

APFUS 2024

February 22-24, 2024 | #337, Central administration building, Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea

Roland Dominic G. Jamora, MD, PhD

Associate Professor

University of the Philippines Manila, Philippines

Associate Professor Jamora graduated medicine from the University of the East Ramon Magsaysay Memorial Medical Center and obtained his PhD in Health Sciences from the University of the Philippines Manila. At present, he is a faculty of the College of Medicine, University of the Philippines Manila. He is also the Secretary-Elect of the Asian Oceanian Section of the International Parkinson and Movement Disorder Society and a Board Member of the Asian Pacific Society for Transcranial Focused Ultrasound Surgery. He is the movement disorder specialist of the Philippine Movement Disorder Surgery Center at the Cardinal Santos Medical Center. His researches are on movement disorders especially X-linked dystonia-parkinsonism, treatment gaps, and bibliometric studies among others.